

Course Title: 20 th Century U.S. History IIB	Subject Area: Social Studies
Credits: 0.5 This course earns graduation credit in the following content area: Social Studies Course overview: This is a semester long course that will cover American history from the 1960s, through the Civil Rights movements and the Vietnam War, and into present day. To put it in detailed terms...this course will examine the events, movements, ideas, and people that have influenced the history of the United States in the 20th century. We will be focusing on the following units and standards: Entire Class (repeated opportunities for proficiency in all units): HS 6 Analyze ideas critical to the understanding of history, including, but not limited to: populism, progressivism, isolationism, imperialism, communism, environmentalism, liberalism, fundamentalism, racism, ageism, classism, conservatism, cultural diversity, feminism, and sustainability HS 59 Demonstrate the skills and dispositions needed to be a critical consumer of information. (Notebook) HS 63 Engage in informed and respectful deliberation and discussion of issues, events, and ideas. (Participation) Unit IV: Era of Activism HS.1 Evaluate continuity and change over the course of World and US History. HS.35 Examine the pluralistic realities of society(e.g. race, poverty, gender, and age), recognizing issues of equity, and evaluating need for change. Unit V: Vietnam War HS. 4 Investigate the historical development and impact of major scientific and technological innovations; political thought, theory and actions; and art and literature on culture and thought. HS.13 Differentiate between facts and historical interpretations, recognizing that a historian’s narrative reflects his or her judgment about the significance of particular facts. Unit VI: Nixon – Bush HS.3 Explain the historical development and impact of major world religions and philosophies. HS.20 Analyze the impact on physical and human systems of resource development, use, and management and evaluate the issues of sustainability.
